1. "He - llo," — sin said to me, gree - ted me like a friend.
 2. Led by cu - ri - o - si - ty we ran the first few miles.
 3. "He - llo," Je - sus says to me, and greets me like a friend.

— "He - llo," I said to him, — "I've missed your gen - tle hand."
 In the land of va - ni - ty sin was hid - den by some lies.
 "Oh no," I cried to him, I fear your might - y hand."

— He asked: "Please fol - low me, why should we live in strife.
 Bound by de - si - re fla - ming he pushed me through each door,
 "Don't fear, peace un - to you," he whis - pers to my ear,

— I my - self will gra - ti - fy your eyes, flesh, pride of life."
 In fire of suf - fe - ring he knocked me on the floor.
 When his arms em - brace my soul I know to him I'm dear.
